OLE STOREY RETURNS WESTERN LANDS AND H. SALZER ACCEPTS

SUIT INVOLVING FORTUNE SETTLED

Henry A. Salzer's Action Against Former La Crosse Man and Associates will Be Dropped

La Crosse Seed Man Is Still Seeking to Recover $25,000 from the Land Man

By returning to Henry A. Salzer western timber lands for recovery of which suit had been started alleging fraud, J. Ole Storey has satisfied the claims of Mr. Salzer and the suit against Storey and George Sorensen will be dropped.

This announcement of the settlement of the litigation was announced here today by Mr. Salzer, who has received notice of Mr. Storey's action through his attorneys in the west.

In his suit for recovery of the land Mr. Salzer alleged 6,600 acres were obtained by Storey, George Sorensen and others through fraudulent titles. Several offers of settlement were made by Storey's attorneys, but in each case the settlement offered was only in part and Mr. Salzer demanded all or a suit. By the present settlement, which is satisfactory to Mr. Salzer, Storey returns to him about 42,000 acres. Storey had paid to the state about $6,000 and had met other expenses connected with proving up the land, which Mr. Salzer considers balances the account. Final papers in the case are expected by Mr. Salzer in a few days and when the settlement is fully agreed upon the suit now pending in the courts will be dropped.

PUTER CASE REMAINS

While this definitely settles the Storey case, Mr. Salzer declares there remains to be settled the action in which he charges S. A. Puter with obtaining from him $25,000 under false pretenses. Puter, it is alleged, represented himself to Salzer under another name, and posing as a western land agent secured $25,000 for fraudulent titles to a large tract of western land. It is this amount which Mr. Salzer is seeking to recover from Puter. Indications at present are that Puter will make settlement.

DON'T WANT FACTS ABOUT WICKERSHAM

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—A rebuff was received by Attorney L. R. Brandeis today in his effort to learn the exact date on which Attorney General Wickersham's summary of the Glavis charges against Secretary Ballinger was written, when the committee voted to deny the request of the "prosecution" counsel for certain documents to sustain his charge that the "summary" of the attorney general, although dated September 11, 1909, was not prepared until the following November, and then anti-dated.

Brandeis was greatly surprised that the committee should refuse to learn the facts, but said he expected to get at the matter in another way. He objected to the committee's course in deciding the question without giving him a chance to be heard.

MAD ELEPHANT EXECUTED TODAY

DANVILLE, Ill., April 28.—Before half of the medical fraternity of Danville, the mad bull elephant which started a stampede among the herd of pachyderms with a circus here, was executed today. The executioners were the same elephants which had followed the victim in yesterday's mad rush, terrorizing the town for three hours.

Chains were placed around the animal's neck and they were then drawn taut by the other elephants until the big bull was choked to death.

FIVE OF CREW DEAD, STEAMER DISABLED

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 28.—With five of her crew dead and hopelessly disabled, the freighter E. Alba was picked up at the mouth of the Gulf today by the tug Underwriter. An explosion of the steam pipes on the El Alba April 23 when one day out of Galveston killed five of the crew and injured others. The freighter has been floundering for two days helpless.

Chief John Webber and Policemen Wolfe and Groeschner, who were summoned immediately after the shooting at 10:30 last night, would like to know whether Waddell "winged" the intruder.

HELP THE ENUMERATORS

It is believed by the enumerators that the city of La Crosse will show a population of 31,000 if all the persons are enumerated and the business men of the city are anxious that a full count be made. In order to accomplish this it is necessary that everyone who knows he has not been enumerated, help the count by filling out the coupon given below and sending it to Supervisor of Census Frank Winter.

There has been a great shifting in population within the last few years that only the closest work and the utmost endeavor on the part of the enumerators will enable the city of La Crosse to show its full count. Every citizen is vitally interested in the city showing a substantial gain and by a united effort this can be done. It is very important to promptly answer all the questions asked by the enumerators, giving each member of the family and the hired help.

Are you enumerated? If not notify the supervisor of census at once and you will be counted. Are you loyal to La Crosse? If you are see that you are enumerated. Are you a booster? See that you are enumerated and boost La Crosse. With a complete enumeration La Crosse the second or fifth city? You can help answer this question by being enumerated.

Mr. Winter announces that he has been authorized to extend the period of enumeration not to exceed five days owing to the inclement weather conditions in La Crosse and he says he will in all probability make this extension.

Have You Been Counted?

If not, or if you have any doubt, fill out this coupon and mail to Frank Winter, Supervisor of Census, McMillan Building, La Crosse.

On April 15, 1910, I was living at the address given below, but to the best of my knowledge I have not been enumerated there or anywhere else.

A price war on funeral rigs may result from the alleged cutting of the established rates for a funeral handled yesterday morning by Clark & Clark, liverymen. The alleged reduction was made, according to the claim of Liveryman G. R. Hodge, in order to deprive him of the work. Clark & Clark deny they cut their rates, but Mr. Hodge declares he has the offer of funeral rigs at a dollar each in black and white.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER TO TAKE HUSBAND

LINCOLN, Neb., April 28.—The announcement of the matrimonial intentions of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, confirmed today by her father, Wm. J. Bryan, came as a pronounced surprise to the friends of the Bryan family in Lincoln. Mrs. Leavitt is due to reach Fairview next Sunday. Her fiancé, Lieutenant Reginald Altham Owen, of the British Royal Engineers, sailed yesterday from Kingston, Jamaica, where he has been stationed in the British army service. He is expected to reach Lincoln on the same day as Mrs. Leavitt. Mrs. Bryan, Wm. Bryan, Jr., wife and infant daughter, are now enroute from Tucson, Ariz. Mr. Bryan said today that the wedding is to be a quiet home affair next Tuesday and that only a few of his daughter's closest friends in Lincoln would be witnesses.

FIGHTS SHERIFF AND DEPUTIES

EAST RUTHERFORD, N. J., April 28.—After murderously attacking 9-year-old Anna Kipp in the Rutherford boat clubhouse today, Clarence Woods, 19, barricaded the doors. With a Winchester rifle and revolver, he fought off Sheriff George M. Brewster and 25 deputies.

Policeman Charles Smith, who, with Chief McClellan, started to crawl through the meadow grass along the river front to surprise Woods, was shot in the right shoulder.

The girl is in an unconscious condition and physicians fear her skull is fractured and that she will die.

BRISTOW ACTS AS SENATE PEDAGOGUE

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Discussion of the railroad bill was resumed early in the senate today.

Senator Bristow (R., Kansas) with a long pointer in his hand and a big map on the wall, continued to serve as schoolmaster. He pointed out the rates imposed by railroads, charging much less for a long than a short distance.

Interrupting Bristow, Senator Clay (D., Ga.) accused Senator Elkins (R., W. Va.) of having purposely framed the pending bill in the interests of the railroads and to the detriment of the people.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 28.—Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, is still disposing of his adversaries with remarkable ease. In a bout last night with Cara Ezet, the latest Turkish arrival, the Pole won in straight falls, the first in twenty minutes and the second in nine minutes and five seconds.

MARSHALL PLAN WINS KERN FOR THE SENATE

TOM TAGGART, The Defeated Boss

GOVERNOR MARSHALL, Who Triumphed.

TAGGART GETS 14 LONESOME VOTES

While Majority for Marshall Plan is but Thirty, His Triumph Is Complete

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 28.—Kern's endorsement was made unanimous by convention. Adair, Shea and Slack had previously withdrawn.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 28.—

John W. Kern, former candidate for vice-president, this afternoon was endorsed for United States senator by Indiana democrats after he had positively withdrawn his name. On the fourth ballot Kern received 772 votes. John E. Lamb, of Terre Haute, withdrew and 223 votes received by him went to Kern, giving the Marion county candidate 995, 121 more than the needed vote. After overriding the old guard in Indiana democracy, for years generated by Tom Taggart and upholding Gov. Marshall's plan of endorsing U. S. senatorial candidates in convention, the progressives of the party this afternoon set about to get their man to contest the honors with Senator Beveridge.

Marion county immediately offered the names of Tom Taggart and John W. Kern. After the second ballot both withdrew and on the third ballot Taggart arose and shouted: "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, the old guard today is on the scrap heap. Marion county wishes to cast its 183 votes for Hon. John W. Kern."

Despite the fact Kern had withdrawn his name the third ballot gave him 779 votes. On the fourth ballot he was elected by Lamb withdrawing and throwing his strength to Kern.

Gov. Thomas R. Marshall was upheld by a majority after a bitter fight this afternoon and his senatorial endorsement proposition was adopted by a vote of 888 1-2 against 858 1-2.

A mid scenes of wildest tumult, the warring factions contested over the question of naming a United States senatorial candidate from 9 o'clock this morning until noon, each side being given time for debate. The vote changed but little on the several ballots. The Marshall men mustered new votes on the last two ballots from counties yielding to the protest against Taggartism and the progressives won by a narrow margin.

Police Are Needed

Police retained in the democratic state convention hall throughout the day were called into service when the throngs began to surge through the aisles this afternoon. Shouts for the attention of the chairman caused the turmoil.

Senatorial Nominations

These nominations for endorsement as United States senatorial candidates have been made by districts:

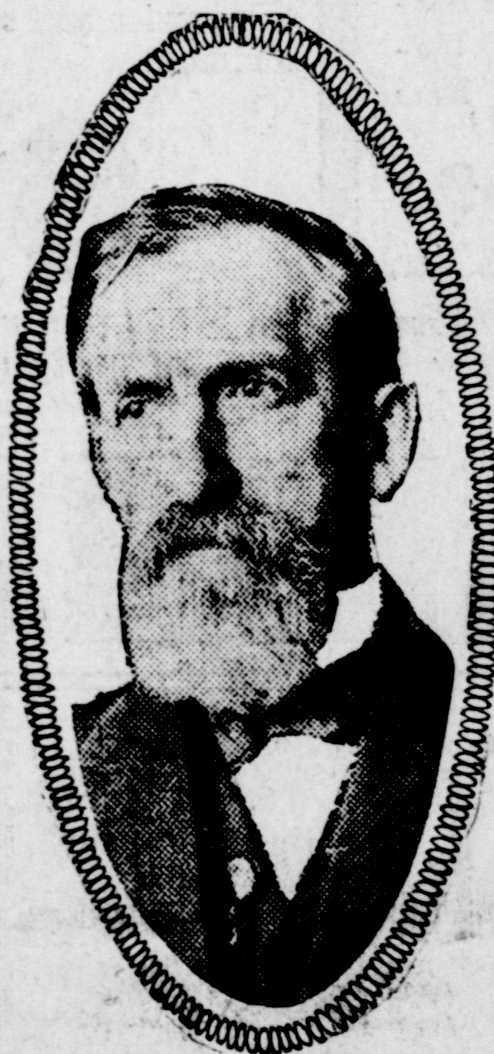

First—Major G. J. Menzies.
Second—Robert Miers.
Fourth—Jos. Shea and L. Ert Slack.
Fifth—John E. Lamb.
Seventh—Thomas Taggart and John W. Kern.
Eighth—J. M. Adair.
Tenth—Lawrence Becker.
Twelfth—E. G. Hoffman.
Kern received 772 votes on the second ballot and Taggart received 14. Lamb withdrew.

The platform was adopted without change. The single senatorial plank declared for the direct election of United States senators and made no reference to the Marshall plan of naming candidates by delegates representing the people in districts.

Marshall Victory Complete

The victory of the Marshall men over spread every other issue before the convention and the cheering in PITTSBURG, April 28.—President Taft's double, Desk Sergeant Thomas J. Morley, of the local department, who was invited by the president to sit beside him during the Pittsburgh-Chicago baseball game Monday when the president will be here, has declined the invitation.

"I don't want to make a show of myself," said the sergeant today, bashfully. "It would be embarrassing to me and might also be to the president. I will be on duty as usual at Central station that day."

INSURGENTS LOSE BY A TIE AGAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—Another tie vote on an amendment to the railroad bill in the house this afternoon showed that the even lineup of Monday was a fair indication of the general attitude of the members toward the bill. By a vote of 121 to 121 today an amendment by Hubbard (R., Iowa) to reduce the authority of the proposed commerce court was lost.

Bennett (R., N. Y.) who voted with the regulars Monday, was in the chair today and did not vote. The republicans who voted with the democrats were Murdock and Madison of Kansas, Haugen, Woods, Kendall and Good of Iowa; Coper, Cary, Nelson and Morse of Wisconsin; and Lindberg, Volstead and Davis of Minnesota.

WILL RE-SUBMIT THE MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT IDEA AT REFERENDUM

Special Lighting Committee Convinced Publication of Special Notice Contained Errors

TRIBUNE TOLD THE STORY

Exclusive Facts Related Yesterday and Opinion of Paul W. Mahoney Is Verified

The question of building a municipal light plant will be resubmitted to the voters at a referendum to be held in connection with the next regular election in this city.

This statement was made today by Alderman Lang, chairman of the special committee having the matter of a municipal plant in hand.

Following the exclusive publication in The Tribune yesterday of the fact that owing to certain irregularities in publishing the notice of referendum here the decision in which last Tuesday the supreme court stopped the building of a municipal plant in Milwaukee for insufficient publication will apply in the La Crosse case, and that therefore the common council cannot legally proceed with the erection of this plant, Mr. Lang on behalf of the committee consulted legal advice and today declared that Mr. Mahoney's opinion had been confirmed.

To Defer Contract

Mr. Lang said that after consultation with other members of the committee the conclusion was reached that the proper method would be to take steps to re-refer the matter to the public. In the meantime, he said, an effort will be made to defer the signing of a new contract with the La Crosse Gas & Electric company until after the new referendum, so that the city may not be tied up should the people again favor the erection of a municipal plant.

$3,000 Annually Saved

A new offer was made by the lighting company today for a ten or twenty year lighting contract in the alternative, the only change from the former offer being that the new one includes a moonlight schedule proposal of $57.50 per lamp per year on a ten year basis and $55 on a twenty year basis. Owing to the difference between the present offer of $62.50 for an all night schedule on a ten year basis, and the present charge of $70 for the same service, Alderman Lang pointed out the fact that even if nothing else were to result the attempt to secure a municipal plant has resulted in saving the city the approximate sum of $3,000 annually in its lighting bills.

At that time, according to Klein, F. A. Heinze had a balance with the bank of $9,917, while Otto Heinze and Company owed the bank $636,000.

HEIRS CAN'T FIND HIDDEN WEALTH

Outagamie County Farmer Dies without Disclosing Whereabouts of the Gold

APPLETON, Wis., April 28.—Stolen or hidden in a place where it may never be found is a tin can full of gold valued at between $3,000 and $6,000 left by Benjamin Stillman, an aged resident of Shiocton, who died on March 17 last. Sons of Mr. Stillman appeared in probate court here and declared that they have searched the farm in every corner but failed to find any trace of the missing money.

Stillman was his own banker, keeping his surplus cash in a little tin can, which for years he secreted between the rafters in a woodshed behind his home.

Every extra dollar he got he exchanged for gold, having a suspicion that some day silver and paper would not be worth face value. At times he kept the money in places relatives knew of, but occasionally he would hide it and not tell any one of its whereabouts.

It was in one of such places that the money was secreted when Stillman died suddenly.

"I don't know much about him," continued the general, "but from what I gathered he has made a good governor for the state of New York. He is a man of positive temperament. 'Elihu Root would have made a good judge. He is an able man, but I doubt whether he would have accepted the appointment had it been tendered him. He can make more big fees as he is now."

S.S.S. CURES MALARIA

Malaria is a species of blood poverty known as anaemia. It is a condition in which the circulation is so weak and impure that it is unable to supply the system with sufficient nourishment and strength to preserve ordinary health.

The medical profession is divided in opinion as to the manner in which malarial poison gets into the blood. Some take the position that it is an atmospheric poison, the specific germs of which are breathed into the lungs and thus transmitted to the circulation. Others advance the opinion that persons become inoculated with the poison through the bites of mosquitos. All however agree that MALARIA is a blood affection, and any treatment to successfully overcome it must not only purify this vital fluid, but at the same time add the necessary qualities of richness and strength to the circulation.

The malarial poison destroys large numbers of the rich, red corpuscles of the circulation, and the peculiar paleness of anaemic persons is due to this fact.

In the first stages of Malaria there is a bilious condition of the system, constant bodily weakness, poor appetite, and a "no account," tired feeling. S.S.S. searches out and destroys every particle of malarial infection and builds the blood up to a healthy, nourishing condition. Then the system receives its required nutriment, the bright red corpuscles begin to multiply in the circulation, sallow complexions grow ruddy and flushed with health, the liver and digestion are righted, the appetite improved, and the system vitalized and refreshed in every way. S.S.S. is a safe and pleasant remedy as well as an efficient one. If you have Malaria we will be glad to have you write us describing the case. We will send free our book on the blood and at the same time our physicians will give you some medical advice that will be of great service to you in curing yourself with S.S.S. No charge for the book or advice.

MANKATO ADOPTS COMMISSION PLAN

First City in Minnesota to Accept New Form of Municipal Government

MANKATO, Minn., April 28.—By a vote of 969 to 671, Mankato, at a special election, adopted a charter based upon the commission form of city government. The majority was thirty-one more than the four-sevenths required by the constitution, so that the new charter will go into force thirty days from this date.

Mankato is the first city in Minnesota to adopt the commission form of city government. It is the first city in Minnesota to which the commission form of municipal government has been submitted.

The commission is to be composed of a mayor, who will be paid $900 a year, and four councilmen, elected at large, each receiving $600 yearly.

The new charter provides that the election shall be held in thirty days. Then all present officials are to retire and the commission will conduct the business of the city.

The saloon interests fought the new charter actively, for fear of county option, although nothing in the charter substantiates their fears. Most of the present officials also fought it, but Mayor Meyer, who opposed it last fall, came out in favor of it this time.

Wharton has turned over all his property at Bruno, including a farm, some buildings in the town and some personal property, for the satisfaction of claims against him. The claims are held by the Pine City State bank, the First State bank of Pine county, the First National bank of Rush City, the Quarrymen's State bank and the Sandstone State bank of Sandstone, and the State bank of Hinckley.

EAU CLAIRE ADOPTS THE COUPON BALLOT.

The Eau Claire county board of supervisors yesterday adopted the Dunn Coupon Ballot as the official ballot of that county. They based their action upon a simple illustration of the advantages it offered, coming quickly to the conclusion that it is the best thing of its kind before the public today.

Six other counties will adopt it this year, conditional only upon the ability of Mr. Dunn to present himself at the board meetings in the respective counties.

Mr. Dunn is a La Crosse man, and it is not inconceivable that as a matter of pride the La Crosse county board may desire to be among the first to adopt his ballot, the greatest safeguard against political fraud, the quickest to count and the most logical of all ballots.

In La Crosse county the matter is in the hands of a committee of the county board, whose action is problematical. Objections raised to it have been trivial. One is that it would be better to wait until the ballot is tried elsewhere. The answer is that if it is not satisfactory it can easily be repealed. It's a home invention of a home man; it is recognized by the state legislature as a fine thing, the vote in favor of it having been near unanimity; it is being adopted away from home. Why not at home?

As to the item of cost, Mr. Dunn will limit the expense to cost under the present system, but this is for hand-made ballots, and as soon as proper machinery for manufacture is installed, it will be the cheapest ballot possible.

THE SOCIAL CENTER

It is hardly conceivable that anyone who enjoyed the opportunity of listening to Edward Joshua Ward's exposition of the social center idea at the High School Tuesday evening failed to grasp the immense importance and the wide possibilities of the movement. What Mr. Ward said was truly first hand information, for it is he who conceived and developed the idea that, born and fostered in the, (for it) famous city of Rochester, has spread to a hundred other cities and promises to be a civic institution in every live American city within the decade of its birth.

Mr. Ward is not an orator. He is one of those physically strong and intellectually powerful men who seize an idea with a firm grip and defend and promulgate it with a vigor and determination that compels attention. Every word he uttered was well chosen to drive home a truth, and was delivered with telling effect. Like a builder on a house, he constructed spike by spike and timber by timber the structure of his system, in the end making it, in the words of Senator La Follette, "as plain as a mill on a hill."

Perhaps no indorsement of his efforts has come to the American people with more force than that of Governor Hughes, justice-elect of the supreme court, who on the occasion of a social evening spent at the Rochester center said:

"I am more interested in what you are doing than in anything else in the world. You are buttressing the foundation of democracy."

An elaborate discussion of the system, in all its details and viewing all its possibilities, would take a volume, and the scope of this article will be stretched in pointing out a few plain truths about the social center idea. Perhaps the most important point to make, because ignorance of it involves a grave danger, is this: It is not a method of uplift; it is a community movement. It is not a poor folk affair exclusively, for Mr. Ward, its author, told his audience that "exclusiveness is as bad as ignorance." It is an institution for everybody—rich and poor, of every nationality, every class, every strain of politics and every creed. It is the great city melting pot, the crucible wherein shall be cemented our common interests, hopes and ambitions.

It requires no deep thought to arrive at an appreciation of the fact that in every community, as in the nation, the great fundamental interests of life are common to all. If in our municipalities we strive at these great interests as individuals, looking at them from divergent viewpoints and striking from various angles, the impulse of our efforts will not be so powerful as it will be if we join our energies on a common ground. If we reach a common ground in each community, there will be overlapping results of our united labors, and the final expression will be national progress in morals, in health, in politics and in all the things which are the fruition of the world's work.

A common need is the impulse, the common good is the goal. So let us dismiss the idea that the social center is for any class, and accept it as the instrument for good of all classes.

The picture drawn by Mr. Ward of the workings of the system as he has intimately observed it is a convincing one. The boys taught manly sports and alienated from the "hangout" and the saloon; the girls in silk and calico cementing friendship over music and handball; girls and boys, from association with their elders whose gatherings have had to do with civic and social problems developing an early interest in public questions of the day—all these developing a wide awakening of the present generation and pointing new and better standards and a better civilization in the coming generation. Seed today and the crop tomorrow, decades of progress piling up a century of achievement. Moral growth, purer ideals, cleaner instincts and better lives! Who can point to a single influence that promises more for flesh-bound mortals than this idea. What greater force is there for the emancipation of mankind from the throngs of prejudice, the handicap of vice, the fetters of ignorance?

The Tribune hopes to see the social center idea worked out in La Crosse in a successful way. The beginning must be born in a healthy interest in the enterprise, and that interest can only come with contact and participation. At the conclusion of Mr. Ward's address President Charles H. Schweizer of the Fourteenth ward social center extended a general invitation to the public to attend the next regular meeting at Washington school on the evening of the coming Tuesday, and The Tribune takes the liberty of echoing the invitation.

It is up to the city attorney to carefully examine the law to determine the correctness of Mr. Mahoney's casual opinion that somebody so blundered as to render illegal the municipal lighting referendum. The matter is one of great public importance, and someone will be held accountable for such error, if one was made. It is to be hoped that no fatal irregularity exists.

There are indications in the evidence of the Swope murder case that there was no "Dr. Jekyll" in the make-up of Mr. Hyde.

Notwithstanding executive "punishment" the insurgents in Washington continue to represent their constituents.

he had been acquitted of the charge of manslaughter for which he had been on trial during the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are personal friends of the park man and were principal witnesses in the case in a Minneapolis court, being obliged to cancel two weeks' contract to be present at the trial.

"We were with Mr. Camp last fall when he ran into a woman in Minneapolis with his automobile," said Mr. Robinson today, "and naturally, when he was arrested on the charge of manslaughter, we were subpoenaed as the principal witnesses in the case. We were delighted to hear that the jury had returned a verdict of not guilty, deciding that the death of the woman was accidental and not due to negligence on the part of Mr. Camp who was driving."

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson own the Airdome theater at Minneapolis which they operate during the summer months, from May to September. The couple were formerly in musical comedy but deserted that three years ago for the vaudeville stage. They played last in the famous "The Other Girl" company. Up to the time of the death of Governor Johnson, Mr. Robinson depicted a Swedish politician character, the effect of which was to make the late governor better known than he would otherwise have been. Since his death the characterization has been dropped. Mr. Robinson is now perfecting an act with four people, which will travel over the Sullivan and Consolidated circuit next fall.

Mr. Robinson is a song writer of note having written several well known popular songs. The latest and best, perhaps, is the famous "I'll talk Baby Talk to You," which the couple sing in their act at the Majestic this week.

A Woman's Way

A prominent banker in this city was talking the other day of the foibles of some of his feminine depositors.

"Women are queer creatures when it comes to business," he said. "For one thing no woman can understand why we won't send her unlimited amounts of money if she asks for it over the telephone."

"But the funniest incident I've known happened the other day. We sent word to one of our women depositors that her account was overdrawn. We expected her to be angry. They usually are. But she wasn't. 'No, indeed. She sat down and wrote us a gracious and lovely letter on crested paper, thanking us for letting her know that her account was over drawn.'

"I am so glad to oblige you by remedying the defect at once," she wrote.

"And she inclosed a check for $750 drawn on our own bank."—Philadelphia Times.

Real Fact

An almost totally bald gentleman, dining one day in a restaurant, called out in anger, "Waiter, here's a hair in my soup!"

The waiter was a tactful man, and he replied: "Ah, ze magnificent hair! Undoubtedly from monsieur's head!"

And the much-flattered diner smiled blandly and remarked: "Ah, well; accidents will happen!"—Human Life.

The Idiot at the Breakfast Table

"I hope you are satisfied with our table, Mr. Idiot," said the landlady. "In the main, yes," replied the idiot. "But I really think I ought to register a complaint against yesterday's fishballs, madam."

"Why, I'm sorry about that," said the landlady, blushing. "We rather pride ourselves on our fishballs. What was the matter with them, sir?"

"Mine had a distinctly fishy taste," returned the idiot.—Harper's Weekly.

Gosintos

The teacher stood it as long as she could. Then she said: "Annie, what are you doing. Why are you mumbiling so?"

"Please, teacher," responded Annie, "I'm studying my gosintos."

"Your what?" asked the teacher, puzzled.

"My gosintos."

The teacher pondered. And Annie went on with her mumbiling.

"Annie, what is gosintos, or whatever you call it?" now questioned the teacher.

"Gosintos," started Annie, "why gosintos is—is—" She halted in confusion.

"Well," resumed the teacher, "then show me how you study your gosintos."

Annie quickly responded as follows:

"Two gosinto two, one; two gosinto four, twice; two gosinto six three times."—Woman's Home Companion.

"Sam, this is the fifth time I have taken you up, but you have not come down with me."

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR LANES.

BY HERBERT QUICK

COPYRIGHT BY EOBBS-MERRILL CO.

"This is, to coin a phrase," said he, "rotten, rotten! Where are those angles that make up the peculiar allurements of the American landscape? Where are the straight lines that constitute real beauty? And not a patent medicine or breakfast food sign as far as we can see—rotten! When we own these lanes, we must have improvements. Instead of those disgusting rings of color, we must lay everything off in rectangular blocks, and put up signs advertising nice, airy lots—magnificent view—in Stratus Addition to Nimbusville. We must establish the Strato-Cumulus Club-House at the Sign of the Hall-Fellow-Well-Me! devoted to high jinks—for the accommodation of exalted personages, including, of course, the Air-Apparatus of the Raining Drynastv. We must open the Alto-Stratus Opera House—there being, I believe, no Soprano clouds—and the Cumulo-Nimbus Electric Company's Thunder Plant; hey, Gin'ral!"

"I'm glad," said Carson, "to get above profits. Thank Heaven, the clouds can't be commercialized."

"Can't, eh?" sneered Craighead.

"You have made good with this machine, I'll have to admit; but you lack financial resourcefulness. I've got to dig out the by-products of the company myself. One of them has just occurred to me. We'll lease sites for captive balloons all along our lanes of licensed air navigation, and sell the right to throw ads for Johnson's Gum Drops and Mother Hubbard's Obesity Regulator on the shining levels of the cloud floor. It can be done by a simple mechanism—if it isn't invented. I'll invent it in an odd moment. And we'll sell exclusive rights to throw colored pictures of Killarney and Senator Clark's house, and moving pictures of the great Sage-Brush Hen-House Robbery on the thunder clouds in alternation with praises of Peterson's Planetary Paint and Bugworth's Insecticide. Why, hang you, witless youth, let me out, while I work these things up, right now!"

"I'll go down, and show you where you'll drop," said Carson. "but I can't stop."

"Going down? Floor below?" asked Craighead. "Wherefore, O brave skipper?"

"I want to see where we are," said Carson. "This is like an open ocean. I want to compare the map with the landscape."

Obedient to the tilted rudders, the Virginia pointed her prow downward; her propeller blades hurled her swiftly forward and toward the earth, and she plunged into the cold steam of the stratus cloud, into mist and white scarfs of lacy fog, and the snowy obscurity of an aerial blizzard. Craighead gasped at the chill and the blindness.

"Ring for a guide," said he. "I'm lost."

He was not lost for long; for the Virginia clove the fleecy hoodwink, and emerged through its lower levels into the clear shadows of the nether air. They could feel the warmth radiated from the ground, the landscape was utterly changed. Far off to the west was the blue line of the highlands, its peaks lost in haze. Below were farms planted in corn and wheat and tobacco, from which came up the lowing of cattle, the crowing of cocks, and most distinct of all, the barking of dogs. Far to the northeast lay a shining river, widening at the limit of vision into a broad estuary; and just within sight could be discerned the clustered spires and towers of a city. Carson looked the landscape over and studied his map.

"I wonder if it's possible," said he, "that that's Richmond?"

"If so," answered Craighead, "let me adopt Mr. Greeley's war-cry, 'On to Richmond!' But, to coin an expression, what's the matter with its being Philadelphia? It's so peaceful under its atmosphere of Quaker drab. But if not the City of Brotherly Graft, let's have it Richmond!"

"But it must be the James," cried Carson. "Craighead, we've made Richmond three hours quicker than I thought it possible! A stork, or a Canada goose, couldn't have covered the distance—and they sometimes go two hundred miles an hour! Why—"

"Let us exult over you insufferable plutes," cried Craighead. "Let's fly rings around 'em! Let's sail circles around the snobs!"

Craighead, scanning the southeast with his field-glasses, had discovered at a distance of six or seven miles a huge silver aeronaut steering northward and to its passengers he referred with many gestures. Carson trained his binoculars on her and grew tense as a greyhound at sight of a distant wolf. The aeronaut was of the Condor type and of the large size, with bow rudders, and along her side ran the line of a vestigial aeroplane. Still at the same unheard-of speed, Theodore threw over the tiller and made for the airship. Craighead looked at him in wonder.

Why so obedient, O Knight of the Congeaed Countenance—all so suddenly?

"That ship looks," said Carson, advancing the spark and crowding the engines until the wind of flight swept the aeronef like a gale, "like the Ro!"

After a few moments on a straight course to intersect that of the aeronat, Carson threw the Virginia up into the cloud. As the earth was blotted out from sight he compared the direction of the aeronat with the points of the compass, making a mental calculation as to the distance and the speed of the two ships, and in another moment they emerged on the shining upper level of the cloud, which, like a shimmering screen between the Virginia and the other craft, hid their approach to each other. One below the curtain and one above it, the air-ship of the future and the air-ship of the past flew on converging courses. Carson held his watch as it ticked off the time for a downward dip, plunged through the cloud for the third time, and darted downward out of the vapor like a swift into a chimney.

They looked about—and saw nothing. And yet, above the purring of the machinery, came to their ears the tremor from powerful engines, the whirling of screws close at hand. Could the Condor have ascended into the cloud as they descended from it? It was possible, but the sounds were approaching, not receding; and voices now mingled with the sounds of machinery—voices coming closer and closer.

"My God, Carson!" shouted Craighead. "You're going foul of her. Look down!"

Just in time Carson looked. From the clear depths of air below, the great bubble of silver rose, swelling in her swift approach. A collision meant ruin for the aeronat, and probably destruction to the Virginia. The propelling blades of the aeronef would cut the envelop of the gas-holder like paper and the two ships, in a huge mass of tangled wreckage, would fall to the earth in death and ruin; or the escaping gas from the aeronat, ignited from the exhaust of the Virginia's engines, might explode, hurling the fragments of both vessels far and wide—and Carson saw in the ruin the fair form of Virginia Suarez hurled to earth and crushed to formlessness below.

There was no time to check their downward career; salvation lay solely in a swift dart to evade the rising peril. Quick as lightning Carson threw on full speed forward. The Virginia obeyed her machinery—and as she swooped to the aeronat's starboard, the latter rose swiftly; the Virginia's stern rudder grazed the gas-bag and was all but carried away a cord of the suspension system of the air-ship snapped with a detonation that set the huge fabric in a tremble; there rose a cry from the deck of the hitherto unconscious monster, as her people realized the fearful fact that here in these dizzy heights they were in collision with something; and as the Virginia came in sight past the immense bulge, they saw white visages turned upward to them, as might appear the doomed traveler's face when assailed by the roc of Arab fable; and as they cheered off, a man came running out of the cabin with a gun in his hand, as if with some wild notion of givn battle to the invisible destroyer which had swept down upon them from the fleecy heights of the cloud.

William Wilson and John Morrison, who have been employed shoveling coal by the Burlington road and who claimed to be waiting here for their pay checks, were taken in by the police, haled before Judge Brindley yesterday afternoon and sentenced to 30 days each.

Morris protested he "had money," but the court informed him that was not a plea to "vagrancy" with which they charged, so both pleaded guilty. As the court pronounced "30 days" both heaved a sigh which was audible and turned with downcast eyes to "go with the sheriff."

"Jailed fer bein' out o' work," muttered the smaller of the two.

MEMORY FOOD

A Case Where Memory Was Strengthened by Grape-Nuts

Food that will actually help the memory as well as agree perfectly with a delicate stomach is worth knowing of.

A good wife out in Iowa who did not know which way to turn to get food that would agree with her husband, who was left in a weakened condition after a serious illness and could scarcely retain any food in his stomach, was one day induced to try him on Grape-Nuts, the famous ready-cooked breakfast food, and from the first he began to improve rapidly. In three months he had gained 30 pounds.

She says that his stomach has recovered so completely that he can now eat any kind of food.

She mentions the boy of an intimate acquaintance, who was so delicate and thin that his appearance was pitiable and he had no appetite for any ordinary food. He was put on Grape-Nuts and liked the crispness and sweetish taste of the new food and took to it. His improvement began at once and he is now a healthy, plump boy.

"I know that Grape-Nuts will do more for weak stomachs than any medicine. The claim that it will build up and strengthen the brain has been proven to my certain knowledge. Sister, who writes for the press, and is compelled to memorize a great deal, has been using Grape-Nuts and says she is surprised at the result. There is a marked improvement in her memory and the brain works more perfectly and with better results."

GOETZACHER CASE IS POSTPONED

Yesterday afternoon Ed Goetzacher, who gave the name of Meyer when arrested, charged with burglarizing the Murphy saloon on the North side, was brought before Judge Brindley in county court and the case was adjourned until Attorney Wolfe for the defendant and District Attorney Thompson can agree upon a date for the hearing.

Is what you are worrying about really worth while?

These cool, fresh days of early spring,

"When the green gits back in the trees,"

Your flowers that have nodded and slept all winter, begin to sniff the air and raise their heads with a new interest in life.

Don't put them all outside. Keep two or three of the prettiest plants in your favorite corner where the sun shines in and the breezes of the early summer blow through.

Strikingly beautiful gardeners are waiting here for a few cents to take them home, and a handsome pedestal for a trifle more will bring the cool, green contrast of summer into your home all season long.

This week is especially attractive for gardeners and pedestals.

PAULHAN WINNER OF AIRSHIP RACE

World's Greatest Aeroplane Contest Makes Him the Champion Aviator

.....
 Facts about world's greatest aeroplane race.
 Route, London to Manchester.
 Distance, 186 miles.
 Prize $50,000.
 Contestants, Louis Paulhan, Frenchman; Claude G. White, Englishman.
 Winner, Paulhan.
 Time in the air, four hours and 11 minutes.
 Average speed, 44.4 miles an hour.

 Louis Paulhan's best records.
 On first flight July 10, 1909 at Douai, France, flew mile and quarter.

.....
 Five days later, still a novice, flew 1:17:05, at height 400 feet.

.....
 Was star competitor Rheims international aviation meet.

.....
 On Aug. 25, 1909, flew 83 1-4 miles in 2:43:24 4-5, winning third prize in the international contest.

.....
 Broke this record at Brooklands, following by flying 96 miles in 2:40:20.

.....
 Made first American flight Jan. 10, 1910, remaining up half hour.

.....
 On Jan. 12, 1910, rose 4,165 feet (official) by far highest flight ever made in aeroplane.

.....
 On Jan. 17, he flew 75.73 miles in 1:57:27.

.....
 Made many 30 and 40 mile cross country flights around Los Angeles.

.....
 Made world's record cross country flight April 18, 1910, going from Orleans, France, to Arrish-sur-Aube, 118 miles, in 3 1-2 hours. Still the record for continuous flight cross country.

.....
 April 27-28, flew from London to Manchester, 186 miles, with but one stop.

.....
 LONDON, April 28.—"Paulhan is the world's greatest aviator. By the side of him I am a novice. Three cheers for Paulhan. Although I did not win the prize, I wish Paulhan good luck."—Claude G. White.

.....
 "I said I would win the $50,000 prize; I would liked to have finished without a stop but it got too dark and too cold for this. My admiration for White's plucky flight is the highest."—Louis Paulhan.

.....
 Although the public feels somewhat aggrieved at Paulhan for taking a seventy-minute start over White, the contestants themselves declare that the race was honestly run and that no unwarranted advantage was taken by either.

 To show his complete good will toward Paulhan, White followed up his foregoing statement by telegraphing the winner at Manchester as follows: "I take the earliest opportunity of offering you my heartfelt congratulations on your splendid performance. The best man won."

.....
 The Daily Mail, donor of the prize, says: "Our cordial congratulations to Paulhan are mingled with sincere sympathy for White, his gallant rival."

.....
 Agreement is Denied

.....
 The story that Paulhan and White entered into an agreement not to start the race until today is officially denied. There was no such agreement, each understanding that the other was to start as soon as he considered the weather conditions favorable. Had the wind not been so high both would have started in the forenoon. That Paulhan got away ahead of White simply showed that he is a more daring aviator than the Englishman.

.....
 White considered the conditions too unfavorable; Paulhan decided to take a chance. That's all there was to the "agreement" story.

.....
 The only unpleasant incident so far reported was the ill-feeling displayed by the people of Lychfield, where Paulhan descended last night. At first they thought Paulhan's machine was White's and their enthusiasm for a moment was unbounded. Their disappointment a moment later was equally great.

.....
 People Cheer White

.....
 To show their resentment the people cheered for White and refused to cheer Paulhan. When the Lychfield authorities saw the temper of the people they called a guard of soldiers from the nearby barracks and stationed them about the machine. The guard was kept until Paulhan reascended. Holt B. Thomas, Paulhan's manager, said that it "was lucky the people of Lychfield did not know that White was only 20 miles behind when Paulhan began his flight from Lychfield. Had they known the race was so close I believe they would have let their patriotism get the better of them."

.....
 After breakfast and a short rest at Manchester, Paulhan had his machine crated for shipment to London this afternoon. The machine is none the worse for the great flight.

.....
 White abandoned his intention of continuing his flight from Polesworth to Manchester.

.....
 Paulhan averaged 44.4 miles an hour and White 38.5.

About Diamond Purity
In the selection of a diamond, size is only one of many considerations. Purity of color and freedom from flaws are very important elements, as also are shape and style of cutting. The most important feature, we think, in buying diamonds is the source you procure them from. We buy direct from the importers, which enables us to give our customers the choicest gems without having to pay the fancy price.

CITY REFUSES TO MIX UP IN FIGHT

Yesterday an effort was made to induce the city to decide whether the street railway company or the Wisconsin Telephone company should pay the expense of moving a telephone man-hole which came immediately under one of the new tracks of the car company in the Fourth and Main street improvements. President Day of the board of public works declined to interfere, as the affair was purely between the corporations. The managers of the companies later got together and decided to move the manhole to accommodate the car track, and it is understood that since the car company is the beneficiary that corporation will stand the expense.

Blitz—Why is it? What brought on the difference?

Blatz—That bottle of "Bug Bang." Not a live bug in the house. Bugless beds, man, you don't believe what it means. Its worth can't be estimated in dollars. I owe you everlasting thanks for your suggestion.

Blitz—Oh, that's all right, Blatz. I experimented the same change in my family with first bottle of "Bug Bang." It does improvement families, and at such small costing as 25c too! Next time I'll tell you of another good one. So long!

PRESTON WOMAN DIES AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

PRESTON, Minn., April 28.—Mrs. George Anstett passed away last Sunday morning at the Lutheran hospital in La Crosse. For a number of years she has been a sufferer from stomach trouble, which recently developed into a cancer. She had consulted physicians on several occasions and they had rendered various statements about her trouble and condition but it was not until the last few weeks that it was considered so serious. Last week she underwent an operation in La Crosse and was thought to be convalescing until Saturday, when she began to fail rapidly, and at an early hour last Sunday morning death relieved her sufferings.

The horse suddenly became frightened and started to back up until it backed off the bank into the river. Fred was unlucky enough to get his foot underneath and it was broken through both bones below the knee so that the bones forced clear through the skin. Medical attendance was summoned.

HYDE HIT HARDER JAIL FOR HIS NOW

Following Court Order for His Arrest Case Develops
Further Damaging Circumstances Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 28.—The only change in Dr. Hyde's demeanor when he appeared in court at the resumption of the Swope trial this morning was the absence of his almost perpetual smile and his failure to make his usual jocular comments.

The Arrest
Judge Latschaw gave an order for Dr. Hyde's arrest at 6 p. m. yesterday, just before adjournment. The audience arose, the lawyers gathered up their papers, and the horns of waiting Swope and Hyde automobiles sounded in the street below as they moved to the curb to receive their passengers. Suddenly Judge Latschaw rapped for order. A dead silence fell on the courtroom as he said:

"In view of the testimony given in this trial, the court is constrained to say that it amounts to a presumption which under the law deprives the defendant to the right to bond. He is still in court and is hereby remanded to the custody of the marshal."

Mrs. Hyde threw her arms about her husband's neck and sobbed, "Let me go too."

She tried to say more but her voice was lost in tears.

Attorney Lucas reserved an exception to the court's order, on the ground that it will prejudice the jury.

Judge Latschaw ordered the utmost diligence exercised to prevent the jury from learning of the revocation of Dr. Hyde's bond. This order caused the defense to abandon the idea of asking for another judge.

More Damaging Evidence
Pharmacist Brecklein was recalled to the stand. Prosecutor Conkling handed the witness a box of cyanide capsules and asked him to wet his fingers and put the drug on them so the jury might smell it.

The defense objected but Judge Latschaw overruled them in a scathing speech from the bench. When Brecklein put his wet fingers into the cyanide a pungent odor permeated one half of the area of the big room. Attorney Walsh sprang to his feet and informed the court that Tom Swope was in the prosecutor's office being sprinkled with cyanide so that his entrance might fill the room with its odor. Judge Latschaw ordered that if Swope's clothes were wet that if Swope's clothes were wet he was brought into court.

Tom Swope's Story
Tom Swope was the next witness. He said: "I saw Dr. Hyde at my mother's home on December 18, 1909. When I left there I saw Dr. Hyde. I saw him drop something and step on it."

"On searching the ground I found two crushed capsules and picked them up. On returning home, I showed my hands to Miss Van Nuys and others. My hands had the color of burnt almonds. It was three or four weeks before I remembered what the odor was but then recalled that it was of cyanide of potassium. On the same night I found the broken piece of a small box that had been stamped into spot near where I found the capsules."

FUNERAL PRICE WAR THREATENED; CUT IS ALLEGED

funeral business and a prospect of a war which may result in slashing the present standard prices maintained by all liverymen, is indicated by the remark of one liveryman that "the undertakers are trying to run things and get a lot of favors and they are going to get fooled."

About two weeks ago G. R. Hodge received a new gray hearse, a new style wagonette and other funeral equipment which he says is better than the equipment of the other liverymen and for this reason has aroused the anger of some of his competitors.

Mr. Hodge says, in connection with a story circulated that he agreed not to re-enter the livery business at the time he sold out, that this story is untrue and will be admitted by his successors in the old stable. He charges that a certain liveryman in La Crosse who was especially angry because he was entering the funeral rig business, went to the city hall when his equipment came, to find if it was paid for, and that the same liveryman made the threat that he would "break Hodge" and put him out of business.

Says Rates Were Cut

The standard rates for funerals is $4 each for carriages and $8 for the hearse. Hodge charges that Clark & Clark yesterday morning took a funeral in the southern portion of the city and furnished the rigs for a dollar each, including the hearse. Hodge says this was in order to beat him out of the work, and although Clark & Clark deny they cut the rate, Hodge says he has a card sent to the house from which the funeral was held offering all the rigs they desired at $1 each and bearing the signature of "Clark & Clark."

Denies Offering Rebate

Charges are made by a certain liveryman that Hodge went to the undertakers and offered a rebate of 50 cents on every rig ordered from him through the undertaker. This Hodge denies unqualifiedly. Hodge declares Miller Brothers took their funeral wagon from the Clark & Clark barn and placed it in his new livery, and he alleges that in retaliation Clark & Clark seek to cut rates where Miller Brothers and the Hodge livery are involved, while they are holding up the prices to the agreed standard for other funerals.

Won't Cut Price

"It seems strange to me," said G. R. Hodge this morning, "that I should not have the right to engage in business if I choose, and that any rival liveryman should make the threat that he will put me out of business. I have the best funeral outfit in town, and that is what makes the trouble. I do not intend to cut my prices, and I believe I will get the business in spite of price cutting. I have had two funerals since I received by outfit, two weeks ago, and am not worrying but what I will get my share of the business. I never agreed not to re-enter business, and I never offered any of the undertakers any rebate for business. I will say, though, that a certain liveryman here went to the city hall to see if my new outfit was paid for, and made threats against my business."

STRANGER CRAWLS THROUGH WINDOW

gation Waddell, who travels in the interest of a patent house fire escape, and who was formerly connected with the Vote-Berger company, returned to his home unexpectedly, and as he was making entrance discovered a man crawling through one of the windows. The stranger jumped to the ground and ran through the back yard over a newly made garden to the alley. Waddell fired a shot at him as he disappeared, but it is not believed he hit the fellow.

The intruder evidently had come to the vicinity in his automobile, for the machine was left standing at the corner, half a block away. One story is to the effect that the nocturnal visitor ran to his machine and escaped in it, but another story is to the effect the machine was left standing in its owner's fright, and that it remained standing in the street where it had been left until 7 o'clock this morning, when it was mysteriously "called for."

When Chief Webber and Officer Groeschner reached the scene Policeman Wolfe had already been there. Chief Webber declares that Waddell had a "poor revolver and couldn't hit a fly."

Mrs. Waddell, who was home at the time, declared there was no one in the house to her knowledge and denies that she heard anyone trying to get in. The identity of the stranger who came in his auto and went faster than he came is the predominant mystery.

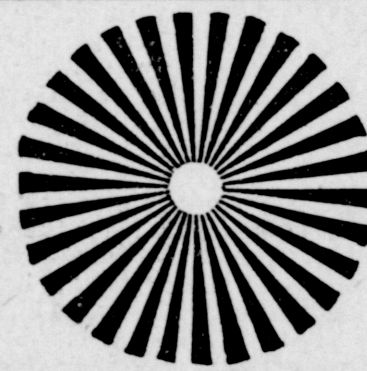

VERDICT OF THE PAPERS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 28.—The Inquirer and the Record give the Langford-Ketchel fight to Langford, although they give Ketchel credit for forcing the fighting from the start to finish, both declare that the colored fighter showed superior cleverness and delivered the cleaner blows. The North American and the Press call the contest a draw. The Ledger, because he delivered the greater number of blows and forced matters throughout, maintains that Ketchel is entitled to victory.

TAGGART GETS 14 LONESOME VOTES

bilation which amounted to hysteria, lasted for fully 15 minutes.

Not since the riotous campaign of 1904, when Wm. R. Hearst attempted to wrest state control from Tom Taggart, have the democrats of all factions given themselves to intense campaigning. The issue of the convention was would the delegates endorse a candidate for senator as recommended by Gov. Marshall. The action of the rules committee in delaying the vote until this morning was conceded by many to be a clear setback for the progressives. The machine leaders were confident of defeating the issue. The victory was won by only 30 votes but the convention is bound to endorse a man to contest the senatorship with Senator Beveridge.

United States Senator B. F. Shively, permanent chairman of the democratic state convention, in his speech this morning, charged Indiana insurgent republicans with inconsistency in endorsing President Taft in a platform which condemned a tariff bill approved by him.

Platform is Positive

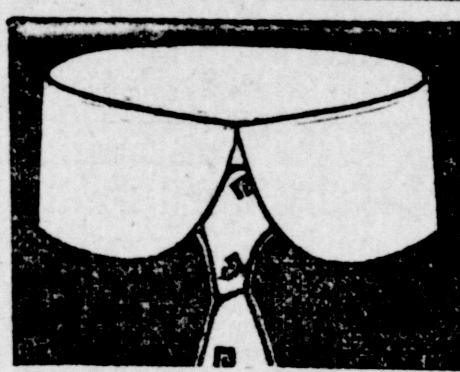

The platform positively denies the position of Indiana democrats on two important questions. It declares for the direct election of United States senators. It disapproves of the county local option theory. The Indiana law is held to be unwise and a curtailment of personal liberty. Its immediate modification is urged, making townships and wards the voting unit.

VISITING NURSE DUE IN LA CROSSE

ternity, she ministers to those critical cases among the poor people where a nurse is essential to recovery and poverty prevents the unfortunate ones from securing one. The expense is not great particularly where, as in this case, the Daughters of the American Revolution have volunteered to furnish all necessary supplies.

An Established Custom
The La Crosse society is not springing an innovation upon the public in deciding upon a Tag Day to raise funds. This is the method that has been commonly used in cities ranging from Chicago to Eau Claire, the latter the last city in the class of La Crosse to establish a visiting nurse. There, under the same auspices that is in control in La Crosse, Tag Day netted nearly a thousand dollars, and as Eau Claire is not so large in population as La Crosse, the belief prevails that at least that amount should be raised here.

To be Annual Festival
Tag Day not only makes the coming of the visiting nurse a possibility, but is also depended upon to maintain her, the committee having already determined to make it an annual event.

A Happy Carnival

The people of Eau Claire made carnival on their Tag Day. They had pretty green and red tags that were pinned to individuals to show that they had donated, while attractive white flags of larger size were pinned upon automobiles and carriages. One prominent citizen, who was interested in the work, insisted on being tagged and retagged until he was fairly covered with the tags, whereupon a member of the committee placed a placard on his back marked, "Paid in Full." However, no attempt was made to tag the same person more than once excepting with the approval of the individual. So thoroughly did the spirit of carnival reign during the Eau Claire "Tag Day", that contributors unite in the opinion that the pleasure afforded was in itself ample remuneration.

SAYS HE SAW THE PRISONER ESCAPE

Watchman Latamore will Be Strong Witness for the State Against Ed. L. Hogan

After listening to the preliminary hearing given E. L. Hogan, a night watchman charged with assaulting and robbing Chris Peterson, Night Watchman Latamore informed the authorities he saw Hogan run from McLaren's yard, through which it was alleged he ran, and that the defendant jumped a fence and disappeared about the time of the alleged holdup.

Evidence introduced charged that Hogan, who has been a private watchman for only two weeks, had been drinking from 9 o'clock until near midnight with Peterson, and that they left Peter Helm's saloon and started north in the alley. Peterson alleges they went on toward the court house and that he was assaulted and robbed near State street, and that his assailant ran through McLaren's yard to Fourth street, and escaped, after taking his money.

Hogan was called to the stand and denied accompanying Peterson through the alley. He declared his wife came to look for him just as he left the Helm saloon, that she called to him and that they went home together. The wife was taken before Chief of Police Webber and reiterated the story told by Hogan, but the police believe she was told what to say by the prisoner.

McLaren discovered footprints in his garden, and shoes of Hogan taken from him at the jail were found to exactly fit the marks, it is said, which were made upon the soft earth as he ran through his yard. Peterson was badly disfigured from the punishment he received.

ODD FELLOWS OF CITY CELEBRATE

The ninety-first anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America was celebrated in this city Tuesday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. Several out of town members of the order as well as local members and their families, enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Fred Wenzel made the introductory speech of the evening and was followed by Paul W. Mahoney, who presented a twenty-five year jewel to Ernest Wermuth. Several musical selections were rendered by Andre's orchestra and these were followed by comical sketches by Otto Meinert. Messrs. Berg played a piano duet and were encored. Mr. Forsythe's two vocal solos were decidedly the musical treat of the evening. Dancing and supper then followed. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

Majority of Dopesters Give Decision to Ketchel in His Fight Last Night with Langford

MAY MEET IN FINISH BOUT

Talk of Long Battle Is Heard Today; Both Fought Like Wild Cats; Ketchel Is Game as Ever

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 28.—Local sporting writers and fight fans are divided as to the winner of the Ketchel-Langford six-round fight before the National A. C. last night.

Of the five morning papers, two declare Langford was the winner, one gives the fight to Ketchel for his sixth round rally, and two declare it a draw.

A fight over a distance to be held on the Pacific coast is discussed today and may be arranged.

Dissatisfaction is expressed today over the fight only because it could go no further. The six rounds were full of thrills. Both men fought like wild cats. For the first three rounds, honors were even. Langford clearly scored in the fourth. The fifth was even, while Ketchel may have had a shade in the sixth.

It is estimated today that there was $22,500 in the house. Ketchel received nearly $10,000 and Langford about $7,500. Ketchel made a game effort in the sixth to put Langford away.

The Fight

Both fighters started the mixing cautiously each looking for a chance to land, there being no real fighting in the first round. The men mixed it hotly in the second with lefts and rights about equally falling into a clinch which had to be pried apart by the referee. The fighting was about even in the third round, Ketchel having a little advantage in number of blows landed. The next round was Langford's by a good margin, the colored man landing several good punches in the stomach and starting the blood running from Ketchel's nose with two punches. He wound the round up with a stiff uppercut to the chin. Ketchel forced the fighting in the next round as in the previous ones but the black fighter met him all the time, giving blow after blow to the stomach, the jaw and head. The round ended by Langford falling to the floor from the force of a missed uppercut. In the last round Langford started the milling by lifting the white man off the floor with an uppercut.

Both drove hard lefts to the head and in a clinch Ketchel pounded Langford's stomach and Langford again started the blood flowing, and he slugged Ketchel with a right to the wind. Ketchel was weak and Langford sent his head back repeatedly. Ketchel was weak on his legs and they clinched repeatedly. Langford played for the damaged nose and had Ketchel covered with blood when the bell rang.

BOSTON DEFEATS WASHINGTONIANS

Gray Allows Fifteen Hits and Then Goes to Pieces, while Hovlik Is Just as Easy

BROOKLYN BEATEN BY BOSTON

Dodgers Unable to Connect with White, while Scanlon Proves Easy for Boston

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—The Boston Americans beat Washington in their opening game here yesterday to the tune of 11 to 1. Gray was easy all the way, allowing fifteen hits up to the seventh, when he went to pieces and was replaced by Hovlik, who was almost as bad. Arrellanes was hit without effort on occasional bunts but got off lucky.

Score: R H E
Washington 100000000—1 8 2
Boston 011010071—22 21 0
Batteries—Gray, Havelik and Street; Williams and Carrigan.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 28.—After apparently having the game won, Chicago was outlucked and lost to the Naps, 3 to 2. The soggy turf was responsible for two of Cleveland's runs, while some wild running and wild throwing gave them the winning run. Score: R H E

Cleveland 0000011001—3 6 1
Chicago 010100000—2 7 1
Batteries—Falkenberg and Bemis; Walsh and Payne.

Detroit, 7; Boston, 1

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 28.—By bunching errors in the second, third and fourth innings, St. Louis handed Detroit the second game of the series here yesterday, 7 to 1. Ill. Graham, who started on the mound, was hit hard at opportune times and was also very wild. Gilligan, who relieved him, twirled good ball in the fifth and sixth and then went to pieces in the seventh. Score: R H E

St. Louis 000000100—1 7 4
Detroit 021100300—7 7 5
Batteries—Graham, Gilligan and Stephens; Pernoll and Stange.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Boston 5, Brooklyn 1

BOSTON, April 28.—Boston had an easy time defeating Brooklyn yesterday, 5 to 1. The Dodgers were unable to hit White effectively while Boston touched up Scanlon in lively fashion, getting material aid from the Dodgers' two errors. It was only in the last inning that White slowed up, letting the visitors get their lone run. Score: R H E

Boston 200300000—5 7 2
Brooklyn 000000001—1 4 1
Batteries—White and Graham; Scanlon, Bell and Bergen. H. Irwin.

NEW YORK, 3; Philadelphia, 2

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—The Giants broke the winning streak of the Phillies and won 3 to 2. Mathewson was far from his best form. A single, a pass and a pair of sacrifices brought the first Giant home. A single, a steal and a pair of two-baggers sent the other two across. A single, a double, a pass, a steal and a wild throw scored two for the Phillies. New York played a poor fielding game. Score: R H E

New York 000120000—3 7 5
Philadelphia 000020000—2 6 2
Batteries—McQuillan and Dooin; Mathewson and Meyers.

CHICAGO, 1; Pittsburgh 0

CHICAGO, April 28.—McIntyre's ability to wiggle out of holes and Hofman's persistence at bat enabled the Cubs to triumph over Pittsburgh, 1 to 0. In the seventh Hofman pulled a double, was bunted to third by Tinker and scored on McIntyre's grounder to right after Needham took a base on balls. Score: R H E

Chicago 00000010x—1 6 2
Pittsburgh 000000000—0 7 1
Batteries—McIntyre and Needham; Lefield and Gibson.

STAGG TO URGE NEW FOOTBALL CODE

CHICAGO, April 28.—A. A. Stagg, Chicago University athletic director, left for Philadelphia today, prepared to make a fight for the retention of the forward pass when the football rules committee meets there tomorrow. In addition he will submit an entirely new football code which he thinks will make for a more "safe and sane" game.

Stagg will urge the abolition of the fifteen yard penalty for an uncompleted forward pass and will favor a rule protecting the receiver of the pass from "body checking." Another rule Stagg favors would provide that the ball would be called "down" whenever the player holding it touches the ground with any part of his body excepting his feet and one hand.

Another idea of Stagg's is to eliminate the kick-off at the start of the game, putting the ball in play at once in the middle of the field. He believes this will avoid many dangerous collisions.

Stagg is also believed to favor a rule permitting men who have been taken out of the game to play again later on.

Stanley Ketchel, the cowboy puglist who lost last night's fight with Langford. This is the third battle that Ketchel has lost, one to Papke, one to Johnson and the one last night. He has a record of 46 knockouts.

BREWERS LOSE TO MINNEAPOLIS

Cutting Allows 10 Hits in Four Innings; McGlynn Goes In and Holds Hits Down

Pitcher Cutting allowed ten hits in four innings yesterday giving the Minneapolis team a lead of three runs over the Brewers, a lead which they were unable to overcome, the final score being 7 to 3.

Though the Macmen were walloped, tied and gagged the defeat shed a ray of hope and the bugs were almost as tickled when they left the park as though Earl Joe's maneuvers had been trimmed. The cause of their satisfaction was the comeback of McGlynn. Going onto the slab after the game had been hopelessly lost the ironman played with the Millers in much the same manner that made him the wonder of the '09 race. He was tickled for three hits in four and a third innings but two of the soaks were mere travesties on the real article. Furthermore he flung himself out of two tight holes in beautiful style. The score: R H E

Milwaukee 000000210—3 15 6
Minneapolis 021040000—7 13 0
Batteries—Cutting, McGlynn and Marshall; Fiene, Patterson and Owens.

ELLIOTT WIRES HIS CONSENT TO PLAY

President John A. Elliott of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league has wired permission to A. W. Kuehn for the playing of a pre-season series of games between Duluth and Superior. The series between the two teams at the Head of the Lakes will probably start next week.

Duluth will be home the latter part of next week, if the present plans are carried out. If the present weather continues the team may be home before that time. Superior, too, may decide to come home before the scheduled time.

The series between the two teams will be one for blood, as there promises to be a very great degree of rivalry between the two teams the present season.

Drink Beer Instead of Ice Water

Grain Letter.
CHICAGO, April 28.—After an uncertain opening with prices steady to 1/4 cent lower, wheat firmer up easily on support from leading bulls, but soon declined even easier when liberal selling was noted. The reaction carried July 12 cent and September 3-8 cent under previous close, and earlier prices were up 1/4 to 3-8 cent. May had a wider range on a small nervous trade, selling up to 1.08 and back to 1.07.

The usual nervousness over probable May liquidation limited the pit demand for corn and the market dragged off 1/4 cent and held around 61 7-8 to 62 cents.

Oats dragged off 1/4 cent the first half hour, then turned dull and colorless and finally eased again when wheat took its second header.

After a firm start on higher hogs, provisions turned away with grain. Support was poor.

Wheat, corn and oats closed weak. Provisions also ranged lower.

HEALTH WORKERS PRAISE FLY SHOW

Urge People to See Motion Pictures of Enlarged Disease Carriers at the Bijou on Friday

Manager McWilliams of the Bijou theater has extended to members of the La Crosse County Medical Society and City Health Commissioned Antoo Murphy an invitation to attend the "Fly Pest" show to be given at his theater Friday.

This picture is one of the series of educational pictures taken by the Edison company and was made originally to be shown before medical associations, civic societies and other organizations merely to instruct in the best way to fight the fly.

Health Commissioner Murphy is enthusiastic over securing the film for La Crosse and in an interview urges that La Crosse people witness the show.

"One does not realize the damage that a fly can do unless he sees a demonstration of this kind," said Mr. Murphy today. "It is estimated that the fly causes more deaths than all the poisonous reptiles and savage beasts."

The picture shows the fly from the time it is hatched until it is a full-fledged disease carrier.

The pictures are taken through a powerful magnifying glass making the fly as large as a hen and every detail in the routine life of the pest is plain. The fly is seen on the body of decaying fish and then flies into a bowl of sugar. Again it is seen on the rim of a cuspidor and from there it goes to the nipple of a baby's milk bottle.

The pictures that are to be seen here tomorrow were recently shown in Chicago and Health Commissioner Evans of that city was so enthusiastic over the educational features that he gave out an interview in the Chicago Daily News urging attendance at the show.

Realizing that more than ordinary interest is held in this picture Manager McWilliams has made arrangements to run off the pictures from 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock Friday morning. They will also be run off during the afternoon and from 7:30 until 11 Friday night.

CAR COMPANY EXAMINES DOYLE

Attorney for the street car company this morning conducted an adverse examination of David Doyle, lineman who is suing the corporation for $30,000 for injuries resulting from a fall from a pole opposite the power house. Doyle claims to have come in contact with a charged wire due to the negligence of the company. Several inches of the bone of his leg have been cut away and he is badly crippled. He answered questions of the car company's attorneys all morning. At the conclusion of the examination, Attorney Hartwell for the plaintiff announced Doyle would not sign a transcript of the examination until certain changes had been made. The attorney alleged Doyle misunderstood certain questions as to residence, which would have to be changed.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

GENERAL ELECTRIC IS NOT INTERESTED

Wm. J. Ferris Denies what Attorneys at Winona Try to Make Into a Sensation

"I wish you would say for me that neither the General Electric company nor any other electric company or companies control or are interested in the La Crosse Water Power company," said W. J. Ferris, president and general manager of that company.

Wednesday during the trial of the case of Julius Hoppe, administrator of the estate of Ernest Lampe, who is seeking $5,000 damages from the city of Winona and the electric company for the death of Lampe, Judge Buck undertook to show that the General Electric company owned or controlled the Water Power company. Attorneys for the company refused to answer and Mr. Ferris says that a satisfied smile on the faces of the other side indicated they thought they had scored a triumph. The fact that James Lyman, chief electrical engineer of the Chicago office of the General Electric company testified as an expert gave rise to this presumption, Mr. Ferris declares, and he takes occasion to deny any such affiliation, unqualifiedly.

During the trial Wednesday the plaintiff's attorneys alleged the "brush" discharge killed Lampe on the high bridge, by jumping a distance of 154 inches. Experts testified that at 45,000 volts the "brush" discharge would not jump more than 2.95 inches, while at 25,000 volts, such as was carried into a ground of the current on the wires, would have jumped not more than 1.3 inches. This the company's lawyers set forth, rendered the claim that the brush discharge jumped 15 inches ridiculous. C. E. Trainor of Chicago, another expert, exhibited his arm through which 33,000 volts had passed, and testified that he touched the wire before receiving the shock. While his arm was badly crippled, he survived the experience. W. J. Ferris and R. A. Lundquist of the local company were among the witnesses in the case, which was given to the jury at Winona yesterday. The company at the time of this accident was not insured against such suits, and is made a party with Winona in the action.

SAVE BEST MART BY TARIFF PEACE

WINNIPEG, Man., April 27.—The outcome of the recent tariff dispute between the United States and Canada is one of the straws that show which way the business wind blows. Business men all over the country rushed telegrams and petitions of protest to Washington at the thought of interference with their best market and the result was that tariff war between the two countries was averted and Canada's demands were granted, almost without exception.

It was a significant recognition of the growing commercial importance of our big neighbor to the north, whose official statistics show that of its total imports in the fiscal year 1909, 60.4 per cent were from the United States, a percentage which means that Canada spent $190,000,000 in one year in the American markets. No other important country buys so largely from the states as does Canada. In the big irrigation blocks in the Bow River Valley alone one American firm sold $1,250,000 worth of goods in 1909.

In the same year, Uncle Sam imported $88,000,000 worth of goods from Canada, the largest items of which were divided as follows: Lumber, $18,000,000; copper pigs, etc., $4,000,000; wool pulp, nearly $4,000,000; hides of cattle, $3,500,000; furs and fur skins, undressed, $1,500,000; tea, $1,000,000; copper ore and matte, $900,000; distilled spirits, $725,000, and horses, $700,000.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

It enlivens and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are continually coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has renewed the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless. A lady from Brooklyn writes: "After a short trial my hair stopped falling, and I now have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter yards long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp.
